A MASONIC MOMENT

Should be a Pattern for Imitation (The Australian Keystone 1899)

The Worshipful Master should be a pattern for imitation by the brethren, the sun for the illumination of the Lodge, the custodian of its work, the embodiment of a gentleman.

In the ceremonies of opening and closing the Lodge he should be infallible as he is indispensable. He should not permit 'short cuts' in the beautiful ceremonies, which are too grandly beautiful and complete to be either prolonged or abridged.

Notice of motion: At the next regular meeting of the lodge I will move "that a sum of money, up to $30 per month be made available to cover the phone costs of the member of the lodge performing the duty of almoner". WBro Damien Hudson.
